

A Wellbeing Assessment Tool

Many of us recognize the importance of wellbeing, but it is easy to get caught up in our busy schedules to the neglect of some of our needs.

Find out your level of wellbeing by rating each of the following dimensions.

Circle the number that best describes you.

	Very Unhealthy	Somewhat Unhealthy	Somewhat Healthy	Very Healthy
Physical Health	1	2	3	4
Social Health	1	2	3	4
Emotional Health	1	2	3	4
Spiritual Health	1	2	3	4
Intellectual Health	1	2	3	4

After completing the above section, decide which area(s), if any, you think you should work on improving. Now answer the following set of questions regarding each dimension of wellness. Indicate how often you think the statements describe you.

What Your Scores Mean

Scores 35 - 40: Outstanding! Your answers show that you are aware of the importance of this area to your overall wellbeing. More importantly, you are putting your knowledge to work for you by practicing good wellbeing habits. It's likely that you are setting an example for your family and friends to follow. Although you received a very high score on this part of the test, you may want to consider other areas where your scores could be improved. Counselling Service

Scores of 30-35: Your wellbeing practices in this area are good, but there is room for improvement. Look again at the items you answered that scored one or two points. What changes could you make to improve your score? Even a small change in behaviour can often help you achieve greater wellbeing.

Scores of 20-30: You have some wellbeing risks. You may benefit from more information about the challenges you are facing. Perhaps you need help in deciding how to make the changes you desire. Help is available from the University. You can schedule an appointment with one of our Counselling Service staff for a personal and confidential one-on-one session.

Scores below 20: You may be taking serious and unnecessary risks with your health. Perhaps you are not aware of the risks and what to do about them. Contact the University Health Service or the University Counselling Service
